Foreword

It is the desire of the Class of 1931 to give in this Mayflower not only its own history but to commemorate the coming of those first Pilgrims to a foreign shore. May the modern John Aldens and Priscillas launching out into a new world be as noble and courageous as those Pilgrims of old.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1931, dedicate this Mayflower to our Mothers and Fathers, who like the Pilgrims, have made sacrifices and struggled for ideals that we may carry on the principles and extenuate the fine type of manhood and womanhood brought to America in another Mayflower three hundred and eleven years ago.

"God had sifted three kingdoms to find the wheat for this planting,
Then had sifted the wheat, as the living seed of a nation;
So say the chronicles old, and such is the faith of the people!"

—Longfellow

"So through the Plymouth woods John Alden went on his errand;
Crossing the brook at the ford, where it brawled over pebble and shallow,
Gathering still, as he went, the Mayflowers blooming around him."
—Longfellow

"Sweet was the air and softly and slowly the smoke from the chimneys
Rose over roofs of thatch, and pointed steadily eastward;
Men came from the doors, and paused and talked of the weather,
Said that the wind had changed, and was blowing fair for the Mayflower."

—Longfellow

"Out of the sea rose the sun, and the billows rejoiced at his coming;
Beautiful were his feet on the purple tops of the mountains;
Beautiful on the sails of the Mayflower riding at anchor."

—Longfellow

Administration

"There with his boat was the Master, already a little impatient
Lest he should lose the tide, or the wind might shift to the eastward."

Class of 1931

Left to Right: Homer Marsh, Eugene Furry, John Tanner, George Sprague

Four years ago we shipped as Freshmen on the good ship Lincoln with a crew recruited largely from Washington junior high school. Early in the year we received a ducking at the La Porte Street bridge, but being good sailors did not mind.

During our second year's cruise we presented "The Christmas Hat," and began finding our sea legs.

Our third year saw us busy with a Junior carnival and the classic Junior-Senior banquet.

September saw us embarking on our last voyage in the Lincoln, November saw us presenting our Senior play, and now we have launched our Mayflower and will shortly depart on a larger sea. The officers who will guide us safely through the adventure are:

The 1931 Mayflower staff found the difficult task of editing a better book on a decreased budget. As undaunted as their Pilgrim forefathers would have been, these modern Pilgrims planned and schemed, cutting down costs at every corner, yet putting into the book their best ideas. They have placed in your hands an annual which has been built by high standards, into which untiring effort has been put, and which attempts to picture the school in all its phases and activities.

Mr. Smurr of the Fort Wayne Engraving Company again helped to plan and budget the book. Mr. A. M. Roth, local photographer, took the views for the scenic section during the summer, and is responsible for the individual photographs. Mr. J. G. Daly, of the Commercial Service Company at Anderson, assisted with the layouts, the printing, and the cover.

An added effort was made this year to tie up the theme of the art work with the book itself. In choosing the Pilgrims, and the Mayflower of 1620 as the theme, the staff felt that no other idea could fit so closely with the life and ideals of Plymouth high school. Like those first Pilgrims, our students are idealistic, adventurous, willing to sacrifice to gain an ambition. They are Pilgrims of a later generation venturing into a new unknown.

Not a little of the credit for the beauty of this Mayflower goes to Miss Mary Jane White, supervisor of art, who directed the designing and cutting of the art projects. Miss Helen McGaughey was general sponsor of the publication.

Ye Pilgrim is the news organ of Lincoln high school, now in its thirteenth year of existence. It is edited monthly by the three editors and the news staff, and is printed in the school print shop under the direction of Mr. Ruch.

The staff was organized this year in two divisions, the editorial staff working under the direction of Miss McGaughey and being headed by the co-editors, and the business staff in charge of Miss Lindley and three assistants who handled subscription sales and circulation.

Ye Pilgrim was host in April to the Northern Indiana High School Press Association. The affair was managed largely by John Tanner, president of the association, and the other editors, Lucille Pletcher and Eugene Furry.

Nearly a hundred delegates, representing twelve schools, attended the meeting of the association, which included an afternoon program, a banquet, business meeting, and dance.

The speakers at the banquet were Mr. L. E. Michael, who made the address of welcome, Mr. Ray Kuhn, superintendent of schools, and Mr. R. E. Blackwell, the executive secretary of the Indiana High School Press Association, who talked on "Making Page One." The theme of the conference was "The Improvement of the High School Newspaper."

Thearallosia

Third Row: Florence Welborn, Betty Rafferty, secretary; Helen Link, Margaret Scheetz, Adaline Xaver, Wanda Frick

Theacallosia literary society was organized in 1927 by Miss Cornetet to acquaint girls with parliamentary procedure, to teach appreciation of good literature, to train girls in the social graces, and to promote lasting friendships. The club is open to any member of the three upper classes making B or above in English.

The organization has presented an auditorium program each year and backs all school activities. An annual event is a trip to a neighboring city for a play, show, or dinner. It has been the ambition of the club to be able to attend a drama presented by a famous company. This was realized when the club saw Mrs. Fiske in "Ladies of the Jury" in April.

Meetings are held once every three weeks in the homes of the members. The programs are made up of musical numbers, original short stories, essays, and poems, investigations on assigned subjects, extemporaneous speeches, and plays.

Seniors in the organization receive diplomas of graduation from the club. The Greek letters of the society are awarded for activities of members.

The club is one of the most active in school.

Commerce Club

Top Row: Catherine Kring, Mildred Barts, treasurer; Olive South, Miss Kessel, sponsor; Celia Franklin, Loma Dell Brown, Victoria Holloway
Second Row: Venus Amones, Juanita Falconbury, vice-president; Irma Hite, Frances Hanes, president; Blanche Awald, reporter; Ruby Watson, Helen Firestone
Third Row: Alice Chaney, secretary; Arietta Ewald, Amy Parker, Ruth Franklin, Marjorie Underwood

The Commerce Club was organized in November of 1929 by Miss Lindley and Miss Kessel for the purpose of interesting students in commercial work and affording them an opportunity of gaining a further knowledge of business.

Over twenty-five girls who have completed at least one unit of commercial work and have an average scholarship of C are members of the organization and participate in its activities at the regular monthly meetings. The business meeting is always followed by a program and a social hour.

Programs have included such interesting talks as: Business Colleges; A Flying Stenographer; How to Secure Accuracy in Typewriting; Are Students of Commercial Work Usually Inferior?; and The Linking of the Classroom with the Business World.

At a meeting held early in the fall at the home of Margaret Keller, the members held initiation for Hope Hildebrand, Loma Dell Brown, Helen Firestone, Venus Amones, and Anna Goss.

Sponsors alternate the responsibilities of the club. Miss Mary Lindley was active sponsor during the first year of its existence. This year it has been supervised by Miss Marian Kessel.

Tri-L

Second Row: Hope Hildebrand, Betty Rafferty, Jeanne Skinner, vice-president; Blanche Wilcoxen, Martha Jane Zehner, president; Gretchen Hoham, secretary; Marie Shatford

Third Row: Betty Beals, treasurer; Lucille Gerrard, Jane Scheetz, Emma Hampton, Julia Ann Steiner

Tri-L, organized in 1926, includes in its membership every high school girl. Miss Kennedy has been active in the organization since its beginning, first as social chairman in charge of the monthly parties, and for the last three years as Dean of Girls.

Its aim is threefold: To promote a more democratic feeling among the girls; to develop a higher type of womanhood; and to help girls in finding themselves.

Tri-L monthly programs have brought Mrs. Marie Newman to the girls in a talk on "Clean Speech," an installation ceremony, a miscellaneous program, Mrs. Ross-Shannon speaking on "Characters I Have Known," Miss Kennedy in a talk on "The Loveliest Thing in the World," and Miss Dorothy Reid who spoke on "Girl Life in China."

Social events of the year included the Big Sister Picnic, the Christmas party featuring white gifts for the unfortunate, and the Sweetheart party.

One hundred eighty girls belong to the organization which is governed by a cabinet formed by three girls from each high school class. The president is always chosen from the Seniors, the vice-president from the Juniors, the treasurer from the Sophomores, and the secretary from the Freshmen. Each upper-classman on the cabinet sponsors a committee. The committees are: program, finance, social, food, music, goodwill, publicity, and big sister. Each committee has its faculty sponsor.

Hi-Y

Second Row: Orville Mannen, Paul Miller, Robert Ryan, Lester Feltz, Joe Schlosser, Walter Glaub, John Tanner

Hi-Y is a voluntary organization composed of about forty boys from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes and led by Mr. Bigler. The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The Hi-Y slogan is: Clean living, clean speech, clean sports, and clean scholarship. Boys are elected to membership by members of the organization. Meetings are held regularly during the year.

A number of boys enjoyed the conference at Kokomo during Thanksgiving vacation. Members were also guests of the Culver chapter at an induction service and chili supper. The Plymouth chapter was host to Culver in February.

The chapter sponsored the gathering and distribution of food and clothing to poor families before Christmas.

Members of Hi-Y purchased dark red slipover sweaters with the insignia of the organization this year. Membership stripes on the left sleeve indicate the number of years the boys have belonged to the club.

On November 25 and 26 the Class of 1931 presented its Senior play, "Skidding," a three act comedy by Aurania Rouveral (by arrangement with Samuel Franch). The play was said to have been the best presented here for several years. The plan instituted here last year by Miss McGaughey of using two casts on successive nights was used again this year with much success. The following Seniors appeared in the first night's production:

Her natural love of politics inspires her to campaign for her father against the wishes of Wayne. The return home of Myra and Estelle, her married sisters, and the desertion of her family by Mrs. Hardy further complicates the plot. A compromise is effected all around to bring the play to a happy ending.

The following took part in the play the second night:

Aunt Milly	Helen Firestone

The team got off to a late start, so met more experienced teams, but made a good showing. The negative team lost a 2 to 1 decision to the North Liberty affirmatives and to Columbia City. The affirmative team won a 2 to 1 decision with North Liberty, and lost a 2 to 1 decision to Columbia City.

Debates were held later with Warsaw and South Bend.

Band

The band, under the direction of Mr. Ewing has made frequent appearances this year, playing at the Bourbon fair, the football games, and presenting short concerts between double header basketball tilts.

In the band, a student may learn the use of trumpet, trombone, clarinet, sax, oboe, tuba or bass, drums, baritone, or other instruments. He may find joy and pleasure in leisure time spent in playing an instrument or may pave the way for a musical vocation.

Through the band, the student becomes familiar with all types of music and develops a taste for good music as well as becoming familiar with semi-classical and popular music.

The Sophomores have twelve representatives in the band. The Junior class is next with nine. Freshmen have six boys in the organization, and the Seniors have but two. With the exception of Edna Mae Stevenson and Jeanne Skinner the members are all boys.

A number of students are in both band and orchestra. They are: Joe Schlosser, John Tanner, Raymond Cox, Cline Teeter, Joel Roahrig, Roy Bennett, Richard Mann, Edna Mae Stevenson, Jeanne Skinner, Orville Anderson, Ritchey Wayne Whitesell, and Dale Tanner.

Orchestra

Mr. Ewing directs the orchestra in addition to his band work. The orchestra has made numerous appearances this year before the public, playing between acts at the Senior play and for various other school functions.

In the orchestra, a student has the opportunity of learning to play some instrument of the orchestra, to become familiar with different kinds of music, to learn appreciation for good music, to familiarize himself with one of the great arts, or to lay the foundation for a musical career.

A student may enroll for orchestra each of his four years or for any one of them.

The organization is composed mainly of underclassmen, John Tanner being the only Senior in the orchestra this year. John plays the clarinet, has sung in the glee club, and has been active in the band.

Four Juniors play in the orchestra, thirteen Sophomores, and five Freshmen. A number of the students play in small orchestras and put their experience to good use in playing for parties.

A number of students who are members of this organization also play in the band.

Through the Glee Club the school aims to give every student enrolled an opportunity to increase the enjoyment of singing through information. Members must pass a vocal test, show an improvement at the end of the semester, observe health rules, and participate in Glee Club appearances.

After two semesters in Glee Club, especially talented students are given an opportunity for quartettes and chorus work. The members of the quartettes are: Lucille Pletcher, Elizabeth Boys, Betty Osborn, Lois Steiner, Ralph Spahr, Eugene Furry, Orville Mannen, Tom Meredith, Kathleen Tanner, and Helen Louise Firestone.

Ralph Spahr, Eugene Furry, Hope Hildebrand, Helen Louise Firestone, Lucille Pletcher, Erma Hite, Betty Osborn and Betty Carroll appeared at the South Bend District Chorus and at the State Chorus at Indianapolis.

Hope Hildebrand, Elizabeth Boys, and Kathleen Tanner sang in the national chorus at Des Moines, Iowa, in April.

Features

MAYFLOWER AWARD

The Mayflower again ranked First Class—excellent in the National Scholastic Press Association contest for 1930.

1930 SENIOR AWARDS

The most outstanding girl and most outstanding boy awards, made possible by the high school faculty last year, were given to Alice Southworth and Harold Vaughn.

The annual Logan award of $350.00 given in recognition of high scholarship was won by Louise Link. Second place, the Logan award of $150.00 for second place, and the Roscoe Chase Medal was won by Frances Kennedy.

SCHOLARSHIP PINS

Scholarship pins were awarded last year for the first time. Winners were Louise Leland, Louise Link, Harold Vaughn, Allan Eister and Maynard Yoder.

CLASS GIFT

The gift of the Class of 1930 amounted to $373.15. This money was used in starting a track on the athletic field to which other classes will add. Formerly, track practice has always been held in Centennial Park.

COMMERCIAL CONTESTS

A great deal of publicity was given the school last year due to winning commercial teams. On April 12 the bookkeeping team, composed of Floyd Gantz, Louise Leland and Irma Jones took first place in a contest at Bourbon. Louise Leland took first individual honors and Floyd Gantz won second individual honors.

The advanced typewriting team also won first place. The team was composed of Margaret Keller, Frances Kennedy and Helen Holland, with the first two girls taking first and second individual honors respectively.

Frances Keller, Marcile South, and Bertha Balmer won first place in the advanced short hand contest, with Frances Keller taking first individual honors and Marcile South taking second.

In beginning shorthand the Plymouth team took second. The team was composed of Pauline Kellison, Berneatha Beagles and Louise Link. Berneatha Beagles placed third in individual honors.

STATE COMMERCIAL CONTEST

The Pilgrim advanced typewriting team won fourth place in the state commercial contest held at Muncie. Margaret Keller ranked seventh in a field of forty-three by writing sixty-six words a minute and only ten errors.

Frances Kennedy ranked fourth in the advanced shorthand contest, the team placing fifth in the state.

Floyd Gantz led the rest in the bookkeeping contest while the team won second honors.

The penmanship team won first place in the open contest with Lucille Stoneburner winning first individual honors and Dorothy Shelton third. Shirley Abair was the third member of the team.

LYCEUM PROGRAM

The school again brought to the city of Plymouth a program of high class entertainment in the form of a lyceum course. The numbers consisted of Losseff's Russian Orchestral Revue, the J. Franklin Caveny Company, the Apollo Duo, Captain Denis Rooke, and a four act play, "Bought and Paid For."

FACULTY TEAS

The Lincoln high school faculty hit upon the happy idea this year of having tea every Wednesday afternoon in the domestic science rooms for the purpose of becoming better acquainted. Many problems were solved over the tea cups though the gathering was primarily for social purposes.

UNIFIED SOCIAL PROGRAM

Wishing the school to meet the social needs of the student more completely, Principal L. E. Michael assisted by members of the faculty worked out a unified social program for the four classes of the school. Two parties were allowed the upper classes, and one each for the two lower classes. Definite plans for parties were filed in the office a week before each event. As a result the parties were much more entertaining than they had been in the past.

JUNIOR CARNIVAL

On April the 10th the Junior class staged a carnival with all the sideshows and attractions for entertainment that one might desire. This is the second year for such an affair and its popularity bids fair to make it an annual event.

PRESS CONVENTION

Plymouth high school was hostess April 15 to the members of the Northern Indiana High School Press Association of which John Tanner was president. A program was provided for the afternoon entertainment followed by a banquet, business meeting and dance.

BENEVOLENCE

Both students and faculty of Lincoln high school responded to the needs of the community this winter. Tri-L celebrated Christmas with a "white gift" program, the girls bringing food and clothing to be distributed to the needy. Hi-Y responded in a similar manner, gathering and distributing food and clothing where it was desired. Members of the faculty gave five per cent of their two weeks' checks to create a fund to aid students who would not otherwise be provided for.

HOFFMAN

A magician was enjoyed by patrons of the school on March 19.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT

The Plymouth school board is to be congratulated upon securing so able a man as Superintendent Ray Kuhn to head the Plymouth city schools. The short time he has been with us has shown him to be capable, energetic, of keen understanding and insight, and a man who is intensely interested in guiding and assisting the student at every opportunity.

HOME ROOMS

A new feature was instituted by the administration last fall, whereby students were grouped into home rooms, each room with its own officers, attendance and scholarship committees, program committees, and other committees and officers as the need arose. Each home room gave at least one program a week, one day was spent in banking, one for pep session, and the others according to the need of the day.

The home room was the one place above all others that the student might learn to express himself, find his own needs and aptitudes, learn to engage in activities and find a sympathetic and kindly guide in the person of his home room teacher. During the second semester, each home room was responsible for one chapel program.

EDUCATIONAL GUIDANCE

In view of the fact that the school is annually receiving students from the eighth grade who do not know which courses they want to take, a pamphlet was prepared by the high school faculty, under the supervision of Superintendent Kuhn, and given to the members of the eighth grade to be used in choosing their courses for the next year.

TESTS

An interesting feature of the high school during the past year was the tests given to the students. Freshmen took a general intelligence test at the beginning of school. Students of Freshmen English also took the Pribble-McCrory grammar tests.

Mid-year and final tests for the whole school were the new type objective tests and were thought to be much more successful than the old essay type tests.

COMMENCEMENT

A new feature of the school year will be the commencement exercises which have been planned entirely by the students and will be carried out by the students without the help of a speaker from outside the school. It is thought that the exercises will be more helpful to the Seniors and more interesting to members of the community than the commencement services of the years before.

ART WORK

The Mayflower this year is more a student enterprise than ever before. The cover design was executed by Lois Steiner, who also designed other features of the art work. Instead of sending designs to an engraver, they were cut in ruboleum by Homer Marsh, allowing much more elaborate art work than would have been possible otherwise.

MAY

Football Schedule Shortened

Due to cancellation of games the Pilgrim football schedule was considerably shortened this year. The Warsaw game was cancelled due to the death of their student manager. Columbia City cancelled their game because they were out of the association. Valparaiso suffered an epidemic of infantile paralysis and cancelled all games.

Two games were won out of six. Only six letter men were lost by graduation, leaving a good nucleus for next year's team.

This is Coach Thurston's third year at Plymouth, first as assistant coach, and the last two years as coach. In that time he has worked under some discouraging conditions and handicaps, but has done well with his material.

Coach Thurston was assisted this year by Cleo Wysong as assistant coach.

Homer Marsh, a Senior this year, has acted in the capacity of student manager of football, basketball, and track. Homer has had three years' experience managing sports, and his loss will be felt when he graduates this year.

The record of the season's games is as follows:

Plymouth 18, Rochester 0

In the first game of the season, the Pilgrims saw that the cowbell was returned to Plymouth. Lawrence and Long proved to be Plymouth's scorers.

Plymouth 0, Monticello 12

Monticello defeated Plymouth by two touchdowns. The Pilgrim team failed to show the punch and drive against the heavy Monticello team that was needed to win the game.

Plymouth 6, La Porte 19

Plymouth lost to the La Porte team after fighting hard for the first half. The afternoon was very warm and the La Porte team was relieved by substitutions. Parker was the mainstay for the Red Devils. He blocked the punt and then Holland put it over the goal line.

Plymouth 0, Riley 12

On November 1 Riley Tigers defeated the local Pilgrims on the home field. The South Bend team succeeded in holding the Plymouth machine scoreless while they gathered in two touchdowns.

Plymouth 19, Garrett 7

The Red Devils won their second game of the season by defeating the Garrett team. The Pilgrim machine ran like clockwork to outshine Garrett in all parts of the contest.

Plymouth 0, Peru 24

Plymouth traveled to Peru to play the P. H. S. team of the south and found a sloppy field. The heavy Peru team was at home in the wet weather and defeated the Pilgrims by four touchdowns.

Basketball

Although from the standpoint of the scoreboard the Pilgrims did not have a brilliant season, it can be said that the team had unbounded pep, fight, and co-operation.

The Red Jackets opened the season by handing Argos a defeat. The next week a scrappy Bremen crew gave us a set back but the boys soon took their revenge by defeating Bourbon. Plymouth then lost to Goshen, LaPorte, and Riley.

To start the New Year right Plymouth journeyed to South Bend to give the Bears one of the hardest games of the season.

Michigan City came to town and bombarded the hoop without mercy. Elkhart played a hard and winning game. Mishawaka then forfeited a game to the Pilgrims by playing an ineligible man.

Culver, with an undefeated record, came to Plymouth on February 7 and won the most exciting game on the local floor, winning 16-14.

On the next week end the Pilgrims won their first conference victory by defeating Riley. Nappanee and Warsaw took our measure in rapid succession.

To end the season with a bang, the Pilgrims raided Rochester, and killed the zebra in a mock ceremony before the game; but he came to life, and the Red Jackets lost a heart breaker by a scant one point margin.

Plymouth showed up well in the sectional tournament at Mishawaka, taking Bremen in the first game, defeating Madison Township, and taking Lakeville in the semi-finals. In the championship game, the South Bend Bears took the Puritans into camp to end the basketball season.

Plymouth Tourney

Lincoln high school held an invitational basketball tourney January 31 in which Argos, Bourbon, Nappanee and Plymouth were entered.

In the draw, Bourbon and Plymouth drew the two o'clock game and Argos and Nappanee were chosen to play at three.

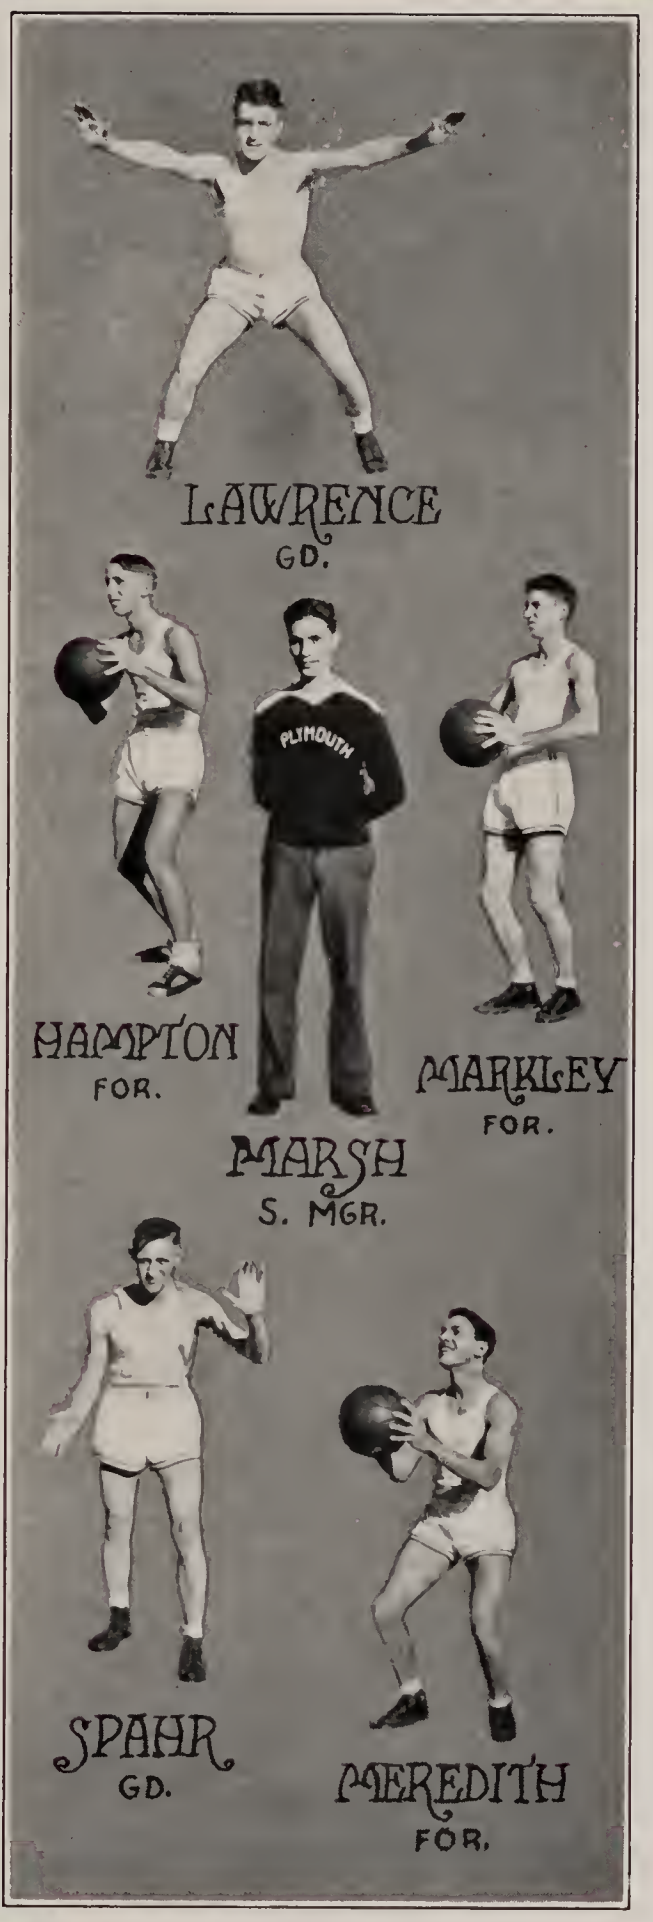
Plymouth got off to a slow start and had trouble in finding the hoop all the way through, while the Cardinals seemed to tally at will. Meredith, Lawrence and Brocksmith tallied for Plymouth's twelve points. The score was Bourbon 22, Plymouth 12.

Nappanee enjoyed a walkaway when the Bulldog team met Argos in the second game of the tourney, defeating Argos by the lop sided score of 36 to 9.

In the evening game, Plymouth played Argos, winning the consolation game 23 to 7. At no time during the game was Argos in the lead. The Pilgrims' greatest number of points were made in the first and fourth periods.

Establishing an early lead, the Nappanee Bulldogs crushed the Bourbon Cardinals to emerge victors of the tournament, piling up a 42 to 11 score. Principal L. E. Michael presented the silver trophy to Captain Dunham of the Nappanee team, immediately following the game.

Captain Morris Holland, Tom Meredith, Cecil Markley, Alfred Ulrich, Wayne Brocksmith, Ralph Spahr, Dale Tanner, Victor Leonhard, Monroe Lawrence and Everett Hampton wore the Plymouth colors in the contest.



Second Team

The second team, composed of many new players, did well this year considering their inexperience. Although winning only one of their games during the season they kept up the old fight and pep and helped greatly in the development of the varsity. Upon them will fall the responsibility of the future teams of Plymouth high school.

Members of the second team squad were Everett Hampton, Willard Hampton, David Fetherolf, Wayne Brocksmith, Francis Johnson, Ivan Samuels, Norman Ulrich, Fremont Books, Vincent Moore, and Melvin Gates. All of these men should be eligible for the team next year.

Of these players, Everett and Willard Hampton are Sophomores, as is Fetherolf. Brocksmith is a Junior. Samuels and Ulrich are Freshmen, which promises well for future teams of Lincoln high school. Books is a Junior, and this is Moore's third year. Gates is a Freshman, but bids fair to be a flashy player when he acquires some height.

Fetherolf showed himself good for baskets in nearly every game. Brocksmith developed a keen eye for the ring, and Ulrich showed ability to connect. Johnson looked good at guard position. Willard Hampton and Moore showed up well and played in nearly every game.

Girls' Basketball

Miss Ahl's second year as basketball coach of the girls' team was as successful as the first, only two games being lost out of eight starts. The girls who played on the team during the season were: Elizabeth Boys, Kathleen Tanner and Irene Beatty, jumping centers; Lois Steiner, running center; Amy Parker (Captain), Lizzie Ham and Betty Rafferty, forwards; Marga Ellen Clouse, Alice Handy, Annabelle Yates and Virginia Ousnamer, guards.

Other girls on the varsity were Irene Graves, Jeanne Skinner, Betty Carroll, Bernice Kizer, Julia Ann Steiner, Venus Amones and Betty Osborn.

Girls winning letters were: Amy Parker, Kathleen Tanner, Elizabeth Boys, Lois Steiner, Annabelle Yates, Marga Ellen Clouse, Alice Handy and Lizzie Ham.

Five girls on the varsity will graduate this year: Amy Parker, Kathleen Tanner, Elizabeth Boys, Lois Steiner, and Venus Amones.

Amy is an all around athlete. She has played on the varsity for three years, and has participated in track events ever since her Freshman year. She has also been an important factor in inter-class basketball. As forward, she could always be counted upon.

Kathleen has been on the team since her Sophomore year, participated in inter-class tournaments, and she went out for track last year.

Elizabeth has been on the varsity since her Junior year. She participated in most of the games this year.

Lois has seen two years of active service on the varsity and has been playing with the first team since her Sophomore year. She is also active in inter-class tournaments and track.

Venus played in one game this year.

Miss Ahl gave a dinner for the girls at the close of the season.

Games won.....75%

Plymouth 30, Bremen 10

The girls started the season successfully by winning over Bremen who had defeated them the year before. After Plymouth had run up the score Clouse was substituted for Handy and Beatty went in for Boys.

Plymouth 18, Bourbon 7

At Bourbon, Plymouth again won a decisive victory. Tanner saw action in this game, being sent in for Boys, and Clouse played in the guard position.

Plymouth 16, Argos 10

This was a hard fought game in which the Pilgrimettes came out ahead.

Lack of keen competition and the calling of numerous fouls slowed up the game. Nine fouls were called on Plymouth and twelve on Argos.

This was the first girls' game to be played as a single feature.

Plymouth 15, Lakeville 25

The Pilgrims met a disheartening defeat at this out-of-town game. Handicapped by a strange floor, but showing great team work, Plymouth went down to defeat.

Plymouth 21, Knox 12

Knox entered this game determined to win, but Plymouth succeeded in piling up a score which was too large to overcome.

Ham started the scoring which was to result by the end of the half in 9 points for Plymouth to 3 for Knox.

In the second half Knox showed more fight. Frequent substitutions were made to break up Plymouth plays. Knox was handicapped by injuries, however, and Teeters was forced out on fouls. Consequently, Knox was never able to establish a lead.

Plymouth 21, Bremen, 13

For the second time Plymouth met Bremen determined to keep up the record made earlier when Bremen was defeated. Though the game was not won by so large a score as previously, the Pilgrim lassies were victors.

Plymouth 21, Culver 17

One of the largest crowds seen in Lincoln gym during the season witnessed the battle between two old rivals. The teams were well matched, the scores being close throughout. The Plymouth machine worked smoothly and the basket shooting was accurate giving the victory to the home girls.

Plymouth 18, Culver 23

Two weeks after their previous battle, the Plymouth girls traveled to Culver for a second contest. The Pilgrims put up a great fight but lacked the final push to get over Culver's score. The Culver girls entertained with a party in honor of the Plymouth team after the game.

Track 1930

The Plymouth high school track team of 1930 was one of the best teams ever produced in Plymouth, winning all but the conference meet and the contest with LaPorte. The Plymouth thinlies won the county championship and the sectional championship at South Bend, later winning over LaPorte in a three way meet at that place.

The Pilgrims opened the season by going to LaPorte and capturing six of the nine first places. However, LaPorte managed to get enough seconds, thirds, fourths and fifths to edge out a victory of 62 to 55.

Valparaiso then came to Plymouth where the Pilgrims ran rough shod over them to win 62 to 37.

In the next few weeks Plymouth won over Rochester, LaPorte, Culver, Michigan City, and Valparaiso. They then journeyed to Gary where Froebel of Gary won the conference championship.

The following week end Plymouth won over South Bend and Mishawaka to take the sectional championship. Nine Plymouth boys won the right to compete in the state track meet at Indianapolis.

For the first time in the history of the school Plymouth was represented in the National Track Meet at Stagg Field in Chicago when the Pilgrim half mile relay team composed of Hollinshead, Bowen, Parsons, and Gordon entered that event. The team placed seventh in its heat but it was not high enough to compete in the finals.

The consistent first place winners of the season were:

Forrest Schaff, half mile run

Harry Gordon, 100 yard dash, 220

Louis Heim, high jump

Dale Tanner, low hurdles

Harold Vaughn, shot put

Eugene Furry, broad jump

George Hollinshead, Roy Bowen, Walter Parsons, Harry Gordon, half mile relay team

All members of the team graduated with the exception of Furry, a Junior, and Tanner, a Freshman. Some good reserve material is left, however, and thirty-six had signed for this sport at the beginning of the season.

BASEBALL

Baseball was introduced again this year, coached by Mr. Wysong. Forty boys signed up for the sport. Lakeville was defeated 7-0 in the first game of the season. The team met Culver April 17, Knox on April 24, and Argos on May 1. Return games were played at Knox and Culver.
